The Crimson Conquered by the Blue in the Great Foot-Ball Battle.

THE BEST TEAM WINS THE VICTORY.

The Mighty Heffelfinger and the Doughty Little Bliss Make an Invincible Pair for the Victors.

SPRINGRIELD, Mass., Nov. 21.—The great day. Fully twenty thousand people saw the ne wave victoriously on Hampden Park this afternoon, and when the great contest was over the nuanimous conviction was that the est team had wen. The immense crowd was secommodated to the entire satisfaction of every one and the arrangements could scarcely have been improved. The field was in good

The Cambridge eleven was outplayed and the best from won. Harvard's weakest point proved weaker than the supporters of the crimen had feared, and Yale's strongest point was much stronger than the most sangume had hoped. The mighty Heffelinger and the doughty little Bliss were an invincible pair, and to them chiefly belongs the credit of Yale's victory.

Harvard's rush line was fatally weak and of the assistance to her half-backs, while Yale's was almost perfect in its guarding of backs. The crimson rush-line player ndividual men, while Yale's line worked like a solid column.

The great Henelfinger fairly eclipsed his reputation, and easily proved himself to be the greatest guard in the country. Mackey was no match for him, and was poweriess to hinder his effective work. Much disappointment was felt with the work of the 'alle captain. He managed his men finely, but when the ball wentto him he receatedly lost ground, and several times ran back in trying to circle the crowd, and was downed with considerable loss. He was not skillful in bucking the line, which is his strong point. It was a kicking nch is his strong point. It was a kicking

THE GAME CALLED. The game was called exactly at 2 o'clock, Tale having the ball and the south goal. Yale was formed in the wedge and made a short gain. McCormick started the first long run of the game. Added by fine blocking of, he dedged through almost the entire Harvard eleven and was not downed until he had reached Harvard's ten-vard line, after a forty-five yard run. The ball was pushed over the line, Morrison scoring the touch-down in four minutes' play. The ball was brought out and McClung failed on an easy goal. Score, Yale, 4. Harvard 9.

after a short gain through the centre, Bliss punted and Corbett caught it on the thirty yard line. Har ard failed to get in ground and was forced to resort to punting. McClung then got the ball, and, finding a splendid hole in the line, made a gain of twenty yards. McClung lost the ball in trying to buck the line, but after Corbett and Lake failed to gain ground Yale got the ball again on Trafford's kick. McClung took the ball and started around Hallowel's end and made a fine gain of twenty yards. The ball was pass.

In the second half Captain Trafford made a fine punt, carrying the ball to Yale's twenty five-yard line. McClung tried to get around gain and the same play was repeated

After getting the ball again on four downs lills took advantage of a fine hole. The Yale rishers made for him and broke through the whole crowd, and was only prevented from storing by the tackle of Lake. Harvard got e ball in a scrimmage and Captain Trafford inted, bringing the ball in back to the centre the field. Cortett then made a good run, downs. Shas punted, and after Trafford had bucked the centre for five yards the ball was passed to Corbett. Bliss caught the ball and with a clear field scored the second and last teach down. Captain McClung kicked the goal and the score was ten to nothing in favor of Tale.

ittle time remained and Harvard began to lattle time remained and Harvard began to play desperately. The ball was forced by short hard rushes well down into Yales territory and Captain Trafford tried for a goal from the field but his rush line falled to held and the kick was blocked by the Yale rushers, but Hallowell recovered the ball finally. Harvard continued to force the ball, and when Yale's fifteen vards line was renched Trafford tried again for a goal from the field. It was an easy drop kick, but he missed it and the last chance for seoring was lost. Yale now braced up and in the remaining time forced the ball up and in the remaining time forced the ball up the field. Time was called with the ball Harvard's territory. Final score: Yale, 10:

The bodies of the dead soldiers were gathered up and laid out in long lines on the field of battle. They were afterward buried in trenches. The were afterward buried in trenenes. Ine-bodies of the two generals were allowed to lie uncared for where they fell for nearly a week. Finally, after the revelry in Valpa-raiso had partially subsided, their bodies were picked up, placed on a rude four-wheeled carryall and dragged through the streets of Valuarias, being spit upon and stoned by an carryail and dragged through the streets of Valparaiso, being spit upon and stoned by an infuriated mob. It was a terrible sight to see two bodies stiff in death, the arm of one of them stretched out almost upright, being treated in such a hideously uncivilized manner.

Officers of the San Francisco says that Chili's hatred toward American seamen was manifested on the streets of Valparaiso when-ever men went ashore. The Baltimore's men ever men went ashore. The Baltimore's men were not the only ones attacked, for one of the San Francisco sailors named Monahal was stabled in the back and suffered from the effects of the wound for weeks.

THE GARCIAN REPOLT.

President Diaz Cables Minister Romero the Particulars of the Affair.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Senor Romero Mexican Minister, called President Diaz's attention to the Brownsville and San Antonio telegrams published recently in the newspapers to the effect that A. Catarino Garcia was heading a revolution in northern Mexico, which was supposed to be on the increase. Senor Romero received last evening a cable-gram from General Diaz, of which the fol-

Columbian Canal Opened.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 21.—The formal opening of the Columbian canal took place to day. It has been under construction for ten years and affords the finest water the gain of twenty yards. The ball was passed to Corbett and he made a fine dodging run of lifteen yards. The ball then vaciliated by a series of punts by Bliss and Captain Trafford without any decided advantage to the other side. McCormick got the ball and made a fine run, but was forced out of bounds at Harvard's fifteen yard line. Bliss and Captain Trafford exchanged punts and time was called for the first half with the ball on tale's forty-five yard line. Score: Yale, 4: Harvard, 0.

FARMERS' ALLIANCE BOYCOTT.

The First Official One Ever Established Declared by the Body.

THE OCALA PLATFORM IS ADOPTED

With Two Slight Changes .. D. R. Duncan, of South Carolina, Indorsed for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21.—The Farmers' Alliance convention to-day adopted the Ocala platform with but two changes, and these were simply in the wording of the sub-Treasury plank. Where that section now read "shall lean money" on imperishable farm products it is changed to "shall issue money," and where it reads "not more than 2 per cent, interest" the last word is changed to "tax." The report of the committee was received with cheers.

At 10 o'clock this morning General Lecturer J. A. Wight, of the Knights of Labor, constituting the committee to extend fraternal greetings to the Alliance, was admitted to the council. His specific mission, however, was to urge upon the Alliance the need of close bonds and the establishment of prac-close bonds and the establishment of practical reform co-operations with the common purposes of industrial reform as an end.

The first official boycott ever established by the Farmer's Alliance was declared this morning. It was brought about by General Lecturer Wright, who presented the case of the Kochester (N. 1.) garment workers, who were in the employ of the twenty-seven combined firms at that point and locked out, and declaring the purpose of the Alliance to patronize the co-operative store as estabpatronize the co-operative store as estab-lished by the 13,000 locked out garment workers.

The adoption of this resolution is also the first act of co-operation between the Al-liance and the knights of Labor, General Lecturer Wright says the Knights are prepared to indorse every demand of the Ocala platform.

The McAllister charges against Macune were taken up as a special order at this morning's session and acted upon. The Alliance stood by its Ocala acti n, acquitting Macune.

A memorial inforsing D. P. Duncan of South Carolina, for a place on the Interstate Communication to succeed General Commerce Commission to succeed General Bragg was presented. The memorial was indorsed, and a committee composed of President Folk, J. B. Beverley, of Virginia, and Hugh Mitchell, of Maryland, named to personally present it to Fresident Harrison.

The constitution of the Alliance has been changed so as to exclude State business agents from membership. Females are now permitted to pay per capita tax and become a basis of representation. An amendment to admit city mechanics was overwhelmingly voted down and a legislative committee advisory to the president has been created.

THE SPEAKERSHIP FIGHT.

Ex-President Cleveland Says He is Taking No Part in It-To Help Springer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.-Grover Cleveland authorizes the statement that he is taking no part in the contest for the speakership of the House; that he is as much the friend of each candidate as he is of any other, that he never decirred himself as favoring Mr. Mills more than Mr. Crisp or Mr. Springer or Mr. MeMil-lin, and that he has not made and does not intend making any auggestions in respect to the oranization of the House of Representa-

BOGUS CENSUS PORTER TALKS

And Produces Private Figures to Prove His Side of the Question.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 21.-Robert P. Porter. superintendent of the United States census, delivered an address before the Commercial club of this city to-night. The occasion was a very enjoyable one, and the attendance was Mr. Porter said that commercial life centered on great rivers or great lakes. He traced the commercial advancement of the country through the various censuses from the time of Alexander Hamilton to the present. and presented figures from the eleventh census, now made public for the first time, to show that wool and woolen manufactures had to day increased since 1880 $77,046,753 in value. Statistics of cotton manufactures were also made public for the first time and show increases over 18:0 as follows. In number of establishments, 150: in hands employed, 48,323: in cotton consumed (bales), 670,160; in value of product, $65,674,419: in number of spindles, 3,515,506, and in number of looms, 90,298, The greatest increase is in the Southern States, which are employing nearly as many hands in this industry now as New England did in MAY LOSE THEIR ELECTORS.

The Condition of Affairs That Confronts Missouri and Kansas.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 .- A special from Topeka, Kan., says: Judge W. C. Webb, of this city, has written an opinion in which he says that Kansas will lose a presidential elector unless the Governor convenes the Legislature in special session for the purpose of redistrict-ing the State for congressional purposes. He cites the Constitution, which is very plain. The matter has been seriously consid-ered by many leading Republicans of the State, but Governor Humphrey has expressed. Kansas will lose a presidential elector unless State, but Governor Humphrey has expressed no opinion. He has said, however, that nothing short of a puelle calamity would induce him to convene the Legislature in extra session. All the parties here will nominate a candidate for Congress at large unless the State is redistricted. The same condition exists in Missouri, and Governor Francis is being urged to call a special session of the Legislature. The congressmen there are opposed to any changes in their districts, and will prevent it if possible. Should Governor Francis decline to convene the Legislature Governor Humparey could decline in kansas, and the loss of an elector in each State would not of an elector in each State would not affect the general result.

THE STRIKING MINERS.

The Final Outcome May be a Series of Bloody Riots. [By Cable to the Times.] Panis, Nov. 21.-Advices received here this morning from Lens, near Arras, in the Department of Pas-de-Calais, where from 36,000 partment of Pas-de-Calais, where from 36,000 to 40,000 miners are out on strike, show that the situation is gr. wing hourly most danger-ously serious. At a meeting of the miners' delegates to be held to-morrow matters of the utmost importance to all concerned in the strike will be decided, and upon the decision to be arrived at then will possibly depend the question whether or not the Pas-de-Calais is to witness a series of bloody riots.

Russian Army in Austria.

By Cable to The Times. Vienna, Nov. 21.—Two Russian army divis-ions, consisting of four regiments of infantry, four regiments of cavalry and a brigade of artillery, have suddenly made their appear-ance at Dubnol, near the Galician frontier of Austro-Hungary. The explanation given for the concentration of such a formidable body of men on the frontier of a neighboring and presumably friendly state is that the famine prevailing in certain quarters of Russia has made it necessary to change the location of various corps.

Strained Relations. (By Cable to The Times.)

Paris, Nov. 21.—Advices from Diego, Sua-rez Bay, the French naval station in Madarez Fay, the French havai station in Mada-gascar, state that the relations between the French Government and the Malagassy Gov-ernment have become so strained that a French cruiser, now at Tamatave, is held in readinesses there to protect French inter-ests. Concur-rently with this activity a marked increase of crime has been noticed, directed against the priesthood and the objectionable anti-far-nellites. The Irish police say that there is reason to believe that negotiations are in progress between the advanced sections of he factions both in Ireland and America. THE ANTHROPOMETRICAL SYSTEM. There is possibility of the anthropometrical s stem of identification of criminals being adopted by the English police. Detectives are on her track, and legal pro-ceedings will be at once taken against her. She is well known in America. IRVING AND TERBY TO SEPARATE.

It is stated that Henry Irving and Ellen Terry are going to separate. The latter is jealous of Amy Roselle, who is Miss Terry's understudy, and made a great hit in the provinces during Miss Terry's illness. There has also been a row between Mrs. John Wood and Mr. Arthur Chulleigh at the Gourt and Mr. Arthur Chudleigh at the Court Theatre, and they have parted likewise. WHAT IS GOING ON IN PARIS.

The Boulevards Present the Appearance of (Special Dunian Cable to The Times.

Paris, Nov. 21.—The weather has suddenly taken another strange shoot, and has gone off at a tangent from a sharp frost, accompanied with bitter winds which almost chilled the marrow in one's bones and sent everybody about with ruddy noses and bleared eyes, we have changed to a blue and cloudless sky with bright boulevards thronged with smiling people, and with tables set out on the sidewalks, presenting an absolutely summer-like appearance.

like appearance. EXCHANGE OF COMPLIMENTS,

The importance of the banquet that was given by a distinguished company last Wednesday evening to the new French Minister to the United States, M. Patenotro, and its bearing of cordial relations between France and America, with an immediate reference also to French interests in the Chicago World's Fair, was not suggested in brief dispatches. In view of this importance it will not be out of place to revert briefly to the nature of the gathering and the significance of the speeches made. M. Patenotro is a distinguished looking man about forty years old, with black moustache and dark complexion, while his countenance wears the most intelligent expression and his manners are altogether delightful.

expression and his manners are sitogether delightful.

The health of the guest of the evening was proposed by M. Bartholdi, the president of the french-American Union, who wished M. Patenotro success in the New World. Bartholdi referred to him and America in the following happy way. He said: "You have had such a brilliant career in Morocco and China, where the history of nations is measured by centuries, that you will perhaps enter with some surprise into the national life of young America, where the hours and even the minutes sometimes contain events of centuries." M. Patenotro's rising was the signal of prolonged applause. He referred to his travels in the United States and said: "I shall return there with the greatest possible

"I shall return there with the greatest possible pleasure. It will be my duty, as well as my privilege, to foster the feeling of amity which exists between the two greatest republics in the world, and this country will find expression in the brilliant showing which France will make in reply to America's invitation at the exhibition of 1893.

Concluding his speech M. Petenotro proposed the health of the President of the United States. Mr. Whitelaw Reid replied in French, and referred to Jederson's regard, who said that every man had two countries, "first his own country and then France."

Mr. Reid then read an extract from a letter he had just received from Mr. Elaine, in which the Secretary congratulated himself and France upon the approaching arrival of

Eugene Spuller, ex-Minister of Foreign Aflairs, who, by the way, will probably be the commissioner in general at the Chicago Exhibition, then followed, and dwelt on the greatness of the two republics and the splendid future which awaited them if only they remained true to the high aims with which they had started. "I wish the Chicago Exposition," said he, "all possible success; a success greater even than our own." success greater even than our own.' COUNT HERBERT HAS A COLD RECEPTION

Count Herbert Bismarck arrived on Thursday night by the club train. He traveled in a thoroughly democratic manner. He said: "We are not much interested in the fair in Germany, myself least of all." In reply to my questions whether the feeling of indifference he assumed as existing in Germany towards the World's Fair was the effect of the Mckinley bill he replied; No doubt partly so with the Government, but quite so with the public. As to the reasons of his visit to Paris the Count was silent, simply saying that they were of a private nature.

Count Herbert Bismarck arrived on Thurs-l'esterday's morning papers made no amiable comments on his arrival; on the contrary, they contained many rude remarks showing him to be a most unwelcome guest,
